

From: Bernstein, Aaron [aaron_bernstein@hms.harvard.edu]
Sent: Sunday, May 1, 2022 8:22 AM
To: Neil Vora [nvora@conservation.org]
CC: Plowright, Raina [raina.plowright@montana.edu]; Lieberman, Susan [slieberman@wcs.org]; Mariana M. Vale [mvale.eco@gmail.com]; Lee Hannah [lhannah@conservation.org]
Subject: Re: Nature OpEd -- final review due by Sunday 5/1 at 8am Eastern

Hi Neil:

I made a tweak to the paragraph re the independent panel report to hopefully make it a bit fairer.

It now reads:

Take the World Health Organization's (WHO's) 'Independent Panel for Pandemic Preparedness and Response', convened in September 2020. The Panel's 86-page report states, "Current institutions, public and private, failed to protect people from a devastating pandemic. Without change, they will not prevent a future one," and mentions wildlife twice and deforestation once, as if pandemic prevention were only possible through post-spillover actions.